

(right) A liberty boat docks at Fenwick Pier and liberty hounds go ashore. (below) The proliferation of signs in both Chinese and English proclaim Hong Kong's prominence as an international trade center.

(center) The eastern sun sets over Hong Kong Harbor. (above) Some tourists welcomed the opportunity to tour the harbor in a Chinese junk. (right) Curious visitors await their turn to enter the People's Republic of China.