

Big E Aircraft Intermediate Maintenance Department

From the Tunnel to the Jet Shop and the Paraloft to the Tire Shop and countless locations in between, the Aircraft Intermediate Maintenance Department provides essential aircraft component repair and maintenance services for all the embarked squadrons and other ships and aircraft in the Enterprise Battle Group. They serve as Big E's critical organic support line necessary to keep the sophisticated aircraft of Carrier Air Wing EIGHT in a high state of readiness during intensive flight operations.

Made up of four divisions including 53 individual work centers and over 141 spaces, the 'I-level' experts of AIMD maintain full repair capability for more than 10,000 individual aeronautical components ranging from tires and jet engines to oil and guns in support of the squadrons of CVW-8, Enterprise, and also to the Enterprise Battle Group.
